2021 Federal Government Recruitment Initiative with York University
Strategies for Getting Hired Panels

Lets students and recent grads connect with professionals who do the hiring, gain insight into the field and get strategies and tips on:

- What kinds of positions and roles there are within an industry
- What kinds of skills and knowledge are required
- What the recruitment process is like
- How to make connections within the field
- What is involved in the application process
- What to expect during the interview
- How to succeed on the job.
2021 Panelists

President Rhonda Lenton and Vice-Provost Students Lucy Fromowitz welcomed the Federal Panelists during the “Virtual Strategies for Getting Hired" panel.

YorkU students and recent grads got jobs through the Government of Canada's speed hiring event

All students and recent grads were given the opportunity to apply for jobs within the Government of Canada.

These jobs were posted on the Career Education & Development's job posting page and those who applied and met the criteria were sent an invitation to attend the speed hiring event.

During the event, students were interviewed and shortlisted, with the chance of being presented with offers on the same day.
Six Federal departments participated in our virtual winter career fair

Federal departmental booths were very popular during the fair. Here are the number of page views received on these virtual booths.

- Government of Canada / Gouvernement du Canada: 4861
- Offers at Employment and Social Development Canada / Service Canada: 2850
- Canada Border Services Agency: 2292
- Canada Revenue Agency: 2279
- Canadian Security Intelligence Service: 2038
- ESDC - Service Canada - Western Region and Territories: 1862
More Than 1150 Applications
180 Interviewed

To be invited to this event, students applied to the qualifying jobs before the deadline. From there, the Federal Government recruiters reviewed the applications and short-listed applicants who were invited to this event to be interviewed. Successful candidates were presented conditional employment offers on the same day.
The Federal Government Speed Hiring event held on February 11, 2021 was a huge success for York University, with 71+ conditional employment offers given to our students and recent grads in comparison to the 22 conditional employment offers for the same event that we hosted in 2019.
